

This South facing building required a solution to control the glare and solar heat gain that its occupants were suffering from. It was also very important that any solar shading product complimented the expensive £3 Million curtain walling system.

The solution selected to fulfil this requirement was the Astralux 2000 venetian blind system. This product was successfully installed throughout the building, proving to be of great benefit to the occupants.

Benefits

Aesthetically pleasing

Smooth control of daylight

Architect

Carey Jones, Leeds

Contractor

Keir North East

